If the Collector of the district, or other such authorized officer as aforesaid (hereinafter called the Collector), considers that there is primâ facie reason to believe that the application should be granted, he shall cause it to be entered in the register of applications and shall order a local inquiry to be made. If he is of opinion that the application should not be granted, he shall reject it.

7. No loan shall be granted without a local inquiry. When the amount of the proposed loan exceeds Rupees 500, the local inquiry shall be conducted by an officer not of lower rank than that of Tahsildar or Deputy Tahsildar; when it does not exceed that amount, a Revenue Inspector, or officer of similar position, may be employed. The officer charged with making the local inquiry shall, at least one week prior to the date on which he proposes to hold the same, post up, in some conspicuous place in the village in which the land to be benefited by the proposed work is situated, a notice setting forth briefly the nature of the loan applied for and the date on which he proposes to hold an inquiry on the spot as to the correctness of the facts alleged in the application. The person charged with posting such notice shall return a duplicate copy thereof to the officer who issued it after obtaining the signature of the village officers in token of due publicity having been given thereto. No fee shall be charged for service of notices under the Land Improvement Loans Act or Rules.

8. On the day fixed by the notice, or on that to which the inquiry may have been postponed by subsequent notice, the officer charged with the duty of inquiring shall proceed to the village, and, after assembling the parties concerned, the local officials, and some of the respectable agriculturists of the place, shall proceed to examine the site of the proposed work for the purpose of satisfying himself that the improvement is not likely, so far as can be ascertained, to injure any public or private interests; he shall test the accuracy of each of the statements set forth in the application, and shall ascertain and record everything that may be necessary to enable the officer who is to dispose of it to arrive at a correct decision. He will specially take note of all objections to the proposed work and of all evidence bearing on such objections. On the conclusion of the inquiry, he shall transmit the papers with his opinion and recommendation in the form given on the reverse of Form A, to the officer by whom the inquiry was ordered. In the event of a witness whose evidence is material refusing or neglecting to attend, a summons may be issued. If the officer conducting the inquiry be not competent to issue a summons under Act III of 1869 (Madras), application should be made to an officer authorized to summon witnesses.

9. Attention should be particularly directed to ascertaining the bona fides and solvency of the applicant and the sufficiency of the security offered; careful inquiry must be made regarding the rights of the parties in the land to be improved, and the land offered as collateral security, in view to ensuring that the person offering his land as security is the real owner and that the land is free from encumbrances, or is not burdened with arrears of land revenue, or is not already hypothecated to Government for a loan previously obtained. The applicant for the loan should be the registered holder of the land to be improved, and applications from mortgagees, though in possession, should not, as a rule, be complied with. In the case of land offered as collateral security, care must be taken to ascertain that the surety is not only the registered holder, but the real owner, and that, if he has a divided interest in it, the property is not charged beyond the extent of his own individual interest therein, excepting with the written consent of the joint owners. Collateral security should as a rule consist of land. If the applicant is a tenant with a transferable interest in the land, the procedure adopted should be that laid down in rules 14—17; if he has no such transferable interest and there is no common understanding as to whether the tenant or the landlord is to have the right to make the improvement, the loan should be refused, unless the landlord consents.

10. No loan shall be made unless the value of the security offered exceeds by at least one-fourth the amount of the loan applied for.

11. When the work to be undertaken will cost more than Rupees 5,000 and is one requiring professional skill, the applicant may be required to submit to the officer making the local inquiry an accurate plan, specification, and estimate for the work. If the applicant is unable to furnish such plan, estimate, or specification, the Collector may cause them to be prepared on behalf of the applicant, first requiring him to deposit such sum of money as may, in the opinion of the Collector, be sufficient to cover the cost, or, if he thinks fit, calling upon him to give security for the repayment of the same.

12. If, on a review of the local inquiry and such further investigation as may be deemed necessary, the Collector is satisfied that a loan may be granted, he shall record a decision to the effect that the loan asked for, or a less sum, may be given and shall then at once issue an order granting the loan.

13. If the amount of the loan exceeds Rupees 1,000, the record shall be forwarded to the Board of Revenue, and if it exceeds Rupees 5,000, through them, to the local Government. The Board of Revenue, or the local Government, may, on perusal of the records, at once sanction the loan or refuse it, or direct further inquiry to be made if they think fit to do so. On receipt of orders sanctioning the loan, the Collector shall issue an order granting it.

14. When the applicant is a tenant and proposes to furnish as security for the loan any interest alleged to be transferable which he possesses in the land to be improved, or any other adequate security, the Collector shall serve a special notice of the application on the landlord personally; or if service on him personally cannot be effected, a copy of the notice shall be affixed to some conspicuous place in the Collector's office and on the house in which the landlord resides; or if he does not reside in the district in which the application is made, or if his residence is not known, the notice shall be served on the person who acts as the local agent for the landlord in respect of the said land.

15. No such notice shall be deemed to have been served, unless the service is acknowledged by the landlord, or his agent, or the fact of its having been duly made is otherwise established to the satisfaction of the Collector. In any case in which there are more shareholders than one and any shareholder or other person acts as a manager on behalf of the shareholders, service on him will be deemed to be service on each of the shareholders.

16. Such notice shall specify the sum applied for, the nature of the improvement to be made, and the nature of the security proposed for the loan, and shall inform the landlord that, if he desires to make any objections to the loan, he must, within one month after service of notice, signify them in writing to the Collector.

17. If the landlord, or his local agent, or manager, does not so signify his objections, or if the Collector, after considering such objections, is of opinion that the applicant has a transferable interest in the land specified in his application and that the value of such interest, either singly or taken jointly with other security furnished by him, is sufficient for the loan, he may sanction it, or forward the records of the case for the sanction of the Board or the local Government.

18. An order granting a loan shall be in Form B hereto annexed, and shall be signed by the applicant in token that he understands and agrees to the conditions contained therein. Where the sureties (if any) whom the applicant is required to furnish, give personal security only, the bond to be executed by them shall be in Form C hereto annexed. When immovable property is required to be given as collateral security, the security bond shall be in Form D hereto annexed.

19. The order granting the loan shall be retained in the office of the Collector of the district; one copy of it shall be given to the applicant, and, when loans are made payable at any taluk or other subordinate district treasury, another copy shall be sent to such treasury.

20. Interest will be charged on loans at the rate of $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum. If the officers authorized to grant loans consider that in special cases the loans should be granted at a lower interest or without interest, they should report such cases for the orders of the local Government through the Board of Revenue, explaining the grounds of their recommendation. The local Government may, if it sees fit, authorize loans being granted at reduced interest or without interest in special cases.

21. In the case of loans of sums not exceeding Rupees 1,000, repayment shall ordinarily commence at the end of the second year from the date of the loan, and in the case of loans of sums exceeding Rupees 1,000, at the end of the third year; but if in any special case the sanctioning authority considers that the work for which the loan is given is such that a longer time must elapse before it yields a return, a longer interval may be allowed between the date of the loan and the date fixed for the payment of the first instalment, but not exceeding five years. Similarly, if the sanctioning authority considers that the work for which the loan is given is such that it will yield a return within a shorter time than that allowed in this rule for loans not exceeding Rupees 1,000 and loans exceeding Rupees 1,000, he may shorten the period accordingly.

The interest on the loan shall, however, accrue at the end of each year from the date of the loan and shall be added to the principal. The time allowed for repayment of the loans and the instalments shall be fixed by the Collector with reference to the convenience of the applicant and the necessities of the case, but so as not to exceed the maximum limits specified below :—

	Maximum Period. YEARS.
For loans from Rs. 100 to Rs. 500	15
Do. „ 500 to „ 1,000	20
Do. „ 1,000 to „ 2,500	25
Do. „ 2,500 to „ 5,000	30
Do. „ 5,000 and above	35

Loans will not be granted in smaller amounts than Rs. 100. Provided that loans for the construction or restoration of wells may be made for a less amount than Rs. 100, and that the time allowed for repayment of such loans may be extended to 25 years. At the option of the applicant, repayments may be made in the form of annuities, consolidating interest and principal, in accordance with the tables appended to these rules. Any person to whom a loan is granted may repay it, or portions of it, at an earlier date than that fixed in the order making it. Interest shall be charged at 6¼ per cent. on all instalments overdue.

22. All repayments shall ordinarily be made at the treasury of the taluk in which the land to be improved is situated; but the Collector may, if he sees fit, authorize repayment at any other Government treasury within the district. The Tahsildar shall keep a register of loans and repayments in such form as the local Government may from time to time prescribe for the purpose. If the person who obtains the loan desires to pay the instalments of the same with the land revenue, such instalments may be collected with the last instalment of the land revenue falling due in each year.

23. Instalments of loans and interest due thereon may be suspended on proof of failure of crops or other exceptional calamity. The Collector shall report the case to the Board of Revenue, who shall pass such orders on the case as they may deem proper.

24. Subject to the orders of the local Government, the Collector of the district may make provision for the proper inspection of works in course of construction for which loans have been made, and for ascertaining and securing that such loans are duly applied to the purpose for which they are made.

25. The works and accounts kept of the disbursements on them shall be at all times open to the inspection of the Collector of the district or other person authorized in that behalf.

26. In the case of loans exceeding Rs. 5,000, accounts shall be kept by the recipient of the loan in any form that the Collector may, with the sanction of superior authority, prescribe.

27. If at any time the Collector of the district is satisfied that any person who has received a loan has failed to perform any of the conditions on which it was made, he may, after recording in writing the grounds for the decision he has arrived at and subject to the control of the superior Revenue authorities, proceed to recover forthwith from such person or from any surety of such person, under the provisions of the Act, any sums which remain due together with any interest payable thereon and costs as arrears of land revenue.

28. All works for which loans are made in a lump sum shall be inspected and reported on as soon as possible after the date on which their completion is directed in the order granting the loan. All works for which loans are made by instalments shall be inspected and reported upon before each instalment subsequent to the first is paid.

29. Separate rules have been sanctioned for the grant of loans for sinking irrigation wells on specially favorable terms in districts or parts of districts liable to drought.

FOOT-NOTE.—Applications made for loans and documents executed under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, are exempted from stamp duty, and no charge will be made for the registration of the documents.

FORM D.

II.—Special Rules framed under Section 10 of the Land Improvement Loans Act XIX of 1883 for the Construction of Wells.

1. These rules extend to the districts of Bellary, Anantapur, Kurnool, and Cuddapah, but may, at the discretion of Government, be declared applicable to other tracts, subject to the special sanction of the Governor-General in Council. In the districts to which they apply, loans may, notwithstanding, be made under the ordinary rules framed under the Act.

2. No loan under these rules shall exceed the sum of Rs. 750.

3. The loans shall be repayable by equal annual instalments, discharging both principal and interest.

4. The rate of interest charged shall be 3 per cent. per annum.

5. All loans must be repaid within thirty-five years at the latest.

6. A special annual charge shall be made upon the land assigned as the ayacut (irrigable area) of the well for repayment of the debt and interest thereon. It shall not exceed either one anna in the rupee on the amount of the loan or Rupees 5 per acre, whichever is least.

7. Such charge shall be in addition to the ordinary assessment of the land. The land assessment and the special charge will be separately entered in the putta, but will be payable together with the last revenue kist of each fasli year. Payments made shall be credited first to land assessment, and the surplus, if any, will be passed to the special charge for the loan.

8. No security, other than the lands assigned as the ayacut, which shall be pledged as security for discharge of the special annual charge, as it falls due, and of the balance of debt unpaid, shall be required.

9. The lands assigned as ayacut shall be entered in a separate putta and shall be inseparably attached to the well until the loan is paid off. If default in the payment of land assessment or special charge occurs and recovery cannot otherwise be made, the entire unpaid balance of the loan, or such portion of it as the Collector may determine, shall be deemed to at once become due, and the whole of the land assigned as the ayacut and the well itself shall be sold together for the recovery of this amount, with interest thereon and expenses of sale, if any, and will remain subject to special annual charge for the liquidation of so much of the principal debt as remains unpaid.

10. From the purchase-money realized shall be deducted first the land revenue, interest thereon and expenses as aforesaid, and secondly the arrear of special charge and interest thereon; and the overplus shall be credited in liquidation of the balance of the debt due on the well. The purchaser shall, in case of overplus, be entitled either to have the number of future annual payments propor-

* To be used when the borrower alone gives collateral security.
† To be used when the borrower and his sureties all give collateral security.
‡ To be used when the collateral security is given by sureties only.

tionately reduced, the amount of the annual charge remaining the same, or to have the amount of the annual charge reduced, the number of future payments remaining the same. On such sale and re-adjustment, a fresh order and special putta, stating future annual instalments and debt remaining due, shall be issued to the purchaser of the well, and the former special putta shall be cancelled. If the overplus exceeds the unpaid balance of the debt, such balance shall be credited to Government and the remainder paid over to the defaulter. Special charge against the well and ayacut shall then cease. If there is no overplus or deficit, the special annual charge shall continue unaltered for the rest of the term originally fixed. If there is a deficit, the loss of the instalments in arrear, or deficiency thereon, must be accepted as accruing to Government.

Example.—Rupees 300 are advanced for a well, with a 4-acre ayacut and instalments Rupees 18-12-0 under rule 6 and land assessment at 12 annas an acre, or Rupees 3. Default is made in the tenth year and the land and well is at once sold. It realizes Rupees 150. Deduct land revenue Rupees 3 and instalment Rupees 18-12-0, or Rupees 21·75. There remain 128·25 rupees to be credited to the balance of debt, which by table is Rupees 188·333, reducing it to Rupees 60·083. If the purchaser pays this up, the well will be free from debt; if he likes, he may have the number of instalments reduced from 12 to 5 or may continue to pay for twelve years more, the instalment being reduced from 18·75 rupees to 6·037 rupees.

11. On the debt being paid off by completion of the term or under the last rule, the land forming the ayacut shall be held at the ordinary assessment, which shall not be subject to enhancement or increase at revision of settlement on account of the improvement due to the well. No charge for irrigation with the water of the well will be imposed either on such land or on any other land irrigated from it, unless otherwise liable to wet rates.

12. No proposals for a loan shall be approved under these rules unless it is estimated, with reference to the market-value of land of like quality irrigated by wells in the locality, that the value of the land assigned as the ayacut will, after the well is in operation, be equal to not less than one-half of the loan applied for.

13. When a ryot is desirous of obtaining a loan under these rules for the construction of a well, he may apply to the Revenue Inspector, on deposit of a fee of Rupees 5, to have 5 trial boring made at the proposed site of the well by the establishment, if any, maintained by Government in the district for such purpose. Application forms, serially numbered, will be kept by all Revenue Inspectors and will be filled up for applicants free of charge or stamp duty on the deposit of the prescribed fee, which will be printed on the duplicate of the applications retained by the applicant and receipted by the officer taking the application. A printed form, showing nature and thickness of the strata passed through by the borer and the depth at which water is found or not found and the quality of the water, whether saline or otherwise, shall be given to the applicant by the officer in charge of the boring party. If the boring prove unsuccessful, i.e., if water is not met within 35 feet, the fee shall be refunded. If the applicant subsequently applies for and obtains a loan under the rules, the fee paid shall be refunded and the actual cost of boring shall form part of the loan admissible and granted.

14. Applications for loans under these rules must specify the amount of the loan required; particulars of the land proposed as the ayacut of the well; whether it is registered in the applicant's name and is in his possession; whether it is mortgaged, or otherwise encumbered, and, if so, particulars of the same; and what security the applicant can give for the repayment of half the loan in the event of the well not being constructed within a year from the acceptance of the application. If a trial boring has been made, the printed statement of the result shall be attached to the application.

15. Application forms can be obtained at all cutcherries and from Revenue Inspectors, and applicants may have them filled up either by the givers or by the kurnams of their villages. They may be presented or sent by post, or otherwise, to any Revenue officer of grades, not lower than Revenue Inspector, and applicants shall be furnished with receipts for them.

16. On receipt of an application, a Revenue Inspector or higher officer shall at once inspect the land and make summary inquiry in the village as to the correctness of the entries in the application, and shall report whether the land will be commanded by the well; what will, judging from that of like land in the neighbourhood, be the market-value of the land if the well is successful; and whether the security offered, which shall be to the amount of half the loan applied for, is good and sufficient. The report shall be transmitted to the divisional officer, who shall examine whether the loan can be made under the rules, and, if the prescribed conditions are complied with, shall accept the application and order the Tahsildar to advance half the amount of the loan applied for, on the applicants furnishing security as proposed and executing the necessary documents, in the prescribed forms, to the effect that the money received shall be applied to the purpose intended, and that a substantial and properly-constructed well in full working order shall be completed within the time allowable for the execution of the work. Such time shall ordinarily be one year, but in case of loans exceeding Rupees 300, the Collector may extend it to two years. When the first instalment of the loan advanced is expended, the applicant may apply to have the work measured and estimated, and, if work is found to have been done to the value of the first instalment, a second, not exceeding half the loan applied for, may be advanced on further security being furnished to such amount. No interest will be charged on the instalments thus advanced. If default is made in the construction of the well, or if the work fails altogether, the amount of the preliminary advances authorized by this rule will be recoverable from the applicant in pursuance of the security given.

17. On completion of the well the applicant shall apply to have the work measured up and estimated in accordance with a schedule of rates, which will be prescribed from time to time for the district or taluk. If the value of the work done is within 10 per cent. of the amount originally applied for, the securities taken for the preliminary advances shall be released, and an order for the loan granted. If the value is less than the amount originally applied for by more than 10 per cent., the applicant may, if he pleases, refund any excess drawn by him and take a reduced loan, the special annual charge being reduced accordingly, or, if it is in excess by more than 10 per cent., he may claim a higher sum than originally applied for, provided always that the conditions of rules 5 and 6 are not infringed.

Example.—A man applies for a loan of Rupees 300 for a well, with a 4-acre ayacut. On completion, the well is found to have cost Rupees 450. The annual charge is limited (rule 6) to Rupees 20, and by table it is found that this will, in thirty-five years; only pay off Rupees 429·75. He cannot be granted more than this amount: if he takes it, instalments for thirty-five years must be fixed. If, however, the well is found to cost only Rupees 250, he may claim the Rupees 300 for which the application was accepted, but may, if he likes, take Rupees 250, and, in such case, will pay only Rupees 15-10-0 per annum, instead of Rupees 18-12-0.

18. The amount of loan being finally settled, the securities taken for the preliminary advances shall be released and an order for the grant of the loan in the form appended shall be issued by the Collector and signed by the applicant. Interest will become payable from the date on which the order is issued. A copy of the order shall be given to him, and also a special putta for the lands, on the reverse of which shall be shown the amount which will remain due in each fasli, supposing instalments to be paid according to the putta. Orders shall, at the same time, issue for striking the land out of the applicant's ordinary putta, which he shall give up for the purpose.

19. The first payment on account of the debt shall be due with the last yearly kist, coming next after the issue of the order granting the loan, if such kist is more than six months off. If less, the first instalment shall be deferred to the last kist of the following fasli; e.g., the last kist of the year falls in May, and an order granting a loan is issued in January. The first payment for the loan in such case will be fixed for the following May twelve months. But, if the order granting the loan is issued in November, the first payment will be due in the following May. The term of the loan will run accordingly.

FOOT-NOTE.—Applications made for loans and documents executed under the Land Improvements Loans Act, 1883, are exempted from stamp duty, and no charge will be made for the registration of the documents.

Column (1) is the amount of Rupee 1 improved at compound interest for a given number of years. This column = the annual instalment ÷ the excess of the annual instalment above the initial interest on the loan.

Column (2) is the amount at compound interest of an annuity of Rupee 1 for a given number of years. This column × by the excess of the annual instalment above initial interest on the loan gives the amount of principal paid off.

Column (3) is the annual instalment necessary to pay off a loan of Rupees 100 with interest in a given number of years $\left(I_n = 100 \frac{R^n}{A_n}\right)$.

Examples of the use of the tables:—

1. In what time will a loan of Rupees 1,200, at 5 per cent., be paid off by an annuity of Rupees. 80 ?
   The initial interest is Rupees 60, leaving Rupees 20 and $\frac{80}{20} = 4$.
   The next lowest figure in column (1) at 5 per cent. is 3·9201 opposite 28 years.
   The loan will be paid off in the 29th year.
2. Of such a loan how much will remain due at 28 years, and how much will be paid off in 15 years ?
   By column (2) at 28 years, 58·402 × 20 = 1168·040, leaving Rupees 31·960 still due.
   In 15 years, 21·578 × 20 = 431·560 rupees will be paid off.
3. What instalment will pay off Rupees 327 at 4 per cent. in 15 years ?
   3·27 × 8·994 = 29·5 rupees.
4. A loan of Rupees 1,500 is to be paid off in 20 years, at 6¼ per cent., but instalments are to be deferred till the end of the fifth year. Find instalment.
   At the beginning of the fifth year, the loan with interest will by column (1) have amounted to (Rupees 1,500 × 1·2745 =) 1,911·750 rupees, and there will remain 16 years in which instalments will be paid. The instalment will be (19·1175 × 10·066 =) 192·437 rupees.
5. If a loan of Rupees 150 is given at 3 per cent. to be paid off in 25 years, what amount of principal is remitted, supposing interest to be 6¼ per cent. ?
   The annual instalment is (1·5 × 5·473 =) 8·615 rupees, which at 6¼ per cent. will pay off in 25 rupees $\left(\frac{8{\cdot}615 \times 100}{8{\cdot}010} =\right)$ 107·553 and the amount remitted is (150 — 107·553 =) 42·447 rupees.
6. Adjust instalments so that a loan of Rupees 1,000 shall be paid off entirely in 24 years, ⅓ in 8 years and ⅔ in 16 years. Interest at 5 per cent.
   Add interest on Rupees 666·667 or Rupees 33·333. Instalment for the first series of 8 years is Rupees 84·910.

(a) One-third of the loan is Rupees 333⅓ and instalment to pay it in 8 years is (3·333 × 15·473 =) 51·577 rupees.

(b) To pay off Rupees 333⅓ instalment is Rupees 51·577 as before. Add interest on Rupees 333⅓ or Rupees 16·667. Instalment for second series of 8 years is 68·244 rupees.

(c) Instalment for third series of 8 years is Rupees 51·577.

7. What loan will an instalment of Rupees 20 pay off in 35 years at 3 per cent. ?
   As 4·654 : 20 : : 100 : 429·75 rupees.

NOTICES TO MARINERS.

[No. 99.]

AUSTRALIA—TORRES STRAIT.

PRINCE OF WALES CHANNEL.

SHOAL GROUND NORTH-EASTWARD OF HAMMOND ISLAND.

Information has been received of the existence of shoaler water than that hitherto charted, in the vicinity of the 5-fathoms patch lying on the south side of Prince of Wales channel, with Turtle head, Hammond island, bearing W. $\frac{3}{4}$ S., distant $1\frac{6}{10}$ miles :—

On 16th October 1885, the German corvette Marie (drawing about 18 feet) was anchored about 2 cables eastward of the above-mentioned 5-fathoms patch. In getting under way, the vessel touched the ground, presumably near that patch, a strong current having set her to the westward on tripping the anchor. The hand leads gave no depths under 6½ fathoms.

NOTE.—Vessels should not anchor near this shoal ground, and caution should be used when navigating in the vicinity.

(The bearing is Magnetic. Variation 4½° Easterly in 1886.)

PERSIAN GULF.

(1) NON-EXISTENCE OF ORIBE SHOAL.

With reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 77, of 22nd May 1879, and previous Notices, on the reported existence, by the Master of the British barque Oribe in 1878, of a sunken danger (Oribe shoal) lying in lat. 27° 27′ N., long. 50° 59′ E.—about midway between Ras-al-Mutaf and Rennie shoal—in the fairway of the Persian gulf; and of unsuccessful search having been made for the shoal in H.M.S. Arab in 1879:—

The following account of an unsuccessful search having been made in H.M.S. Reindeer, in January 1886, has been received from the Naval Commander-in-Chief on the East India Station:—

Depths of 34 to 38 fathoms, over mud and sand, were obtained on and around the assigned position of the danger (for the distance of about 2½ miles), and no indications of shoal water were observed; the Reindeer's position was accurately determined astronomically and by bearings.

Consequent on this and previous search, Oribe shoal has been expunged from the Admiralty Charts.

(2) NON-EXISTENCE OF REPORTED SHOAL NORTH-WEST OF LARAK ISLAND.

Also, of an unsuccessful search having been made in H.M.S. Reindeer for the shoal on which the British India steam vessel Oriental was stated to have grounded in 1884, and reported as lying on the north-west side of Lárak island, at the distance of about one mile from the shore:—

During the search, the reported position of this shoal was frequently passed over by the boats of the Reindeer, the lead giving no bottom at 18 fathoms, and no indications of shoal water were seen. In-shore of the position, a depth of 18 feet was found at the distance of 4 cables from the shore, the water deepening quickly to 7 and 14 fathoms seaward.

Consequent on the foregoing, this shoal has been expunged from the Admiralty Charts.
